Description of Property

The property at 49-57 Main Street South in Georgetown, Town of Halton Hills, is located along the east side of Main Street South, north of Mill Street. The existing two-storey red brick building has running bond red clay bricks with a centre block wider than the flanking blocks. Along the front (southwest) elevation, the building has a raised parapet over the centre unit and a date stone engraved with “Roe Block 1888.”

Statement of Cultural Heritage Value or Interest

The Roe Block at 49-57 Main Street South has physical and design value as a representative 19th-century commercial structure within downtown Georgetown. The two-storey building height with a centre block, red brick exterior with stepped crenellated cornice, vertical second-storey windows with brick voussoirs and stone sills, and recessed entry doors, while reflective of typical commercial buildings constructed within Ontario during its period, incorporates several unique characteristics.

The Roe Block at 49-57 Main Street South has historical and associative value as it relates to Georgetown’s original merchant, John Sumpter. The Roe Block at 49-57 Main Street South has contextual value as it is important in defining the built heritage character of the downtown. The existing two-storey building remains in its original location, physically and functionally linked to its surroundings as a commercial property on the Georgetown main street.
