Municipal Address: 630 King Road, Richmond Hill
Town File No.: D12-07232

Statement of Cultural Heritage Value or Interest

The subject property has design or physical value as it is a representative example of simple Georgian style for early 19th century rural domestic architecture in Upper Canada. The John Love House is also an excellent example of an early form of vertical wood plank frame construction and is the earliest of buildings of this type to be identified in Richmond Hill as of 2008.

The subject property has historical or associative value as it is the last extant, original building constructed by a member of the Love family, early settlers who came to the area from Pennsylvania to play a prominent role in the establishment of the crossroads community of Love's Corners, later Temperanceville, at King Road and Bathurst Street. The Love family was also instrumental in the establishment of the Methodist congregation in Temperanceville including the donation of land for the construction of all three of the community's places of Methodist worship.
