Statement of Cultural Heritage Value or Interest – 329 Victoria Street

Legal Description

Description of Property

329 Victoria Street is located in a residential neighbourhood on the south side of the street. Waterloo Street is located to the east, Renwick Avenue to the west and Cheapside Street runs parallel to Victoria Street on the most southern end of the block. Contextually the residential block works to form part of a large area of London, known as Old North.

The property is located outside of the original 1826 survey of the town site of London. As London grew, so too did the boundaries. In 1840, Old London, was annexed; the annexation extended north to Huron Street, east to Adelaide Street, and west to the Thames River.

Victoria Street is a wide, two-way street, which runs in an east-west direction from the Thames River to Boulee Street; lighting, curbs, sidewalks and mature trees are present throughout the streetscape. The property has a rectangular lot and is evenly set back from the neighbouring houses. The property includes a detached one-and-a-half storey brick residential building, with a one storey attached brick garage. The property was built between 1928-1930. A paved driveway is located on the east edge of the property line.

Statement of Cultural Heritage Value or Interest

The property located at 329 Victoria Street, London, Ontario is of significant cultural heritage value because of its physical or design value, its historical value, and its contextual value.

The built features of the property consists of a one-and-half storey, brick residential structure with attached one story brick garage. Built between 1929-1930, the house was originally occupied by local banker Burton Manning. It was subsequently purchased by the prominent educator Herbert B. Beal who played a significant role in the development of vocational educational curriculum within London. H. B. Beal and his wife, Agnes, moved to this property upon his retirement.

The key resource has a combination of architectural features and design elements that make it unique while still contributing to the character of Old North. These are best represented in the prominent stone chimney and arched umbrage front entrance way. The remaining refined, but modest, design features and the individuality of the property helps contribute to the residential character of the neighbourhood and is representative of a time period of residential growth in north London.
