REASONS FOR DESIGNATION

Description of Property

The Glen Methodist Church is located at 533 Main Street, Glen Williams, Halton Hills, and is a rectangular village lot situated on the east side of Main Street, between Prince Street and the Credit River Williams Bridge. The property contains a two-storey Gothic Revival frame Methodist Church built in 1840 and bricked over in 1903.

Statement of Cultural Heritage Value or Interest

The Glen Methodist Church at 533 Main Street has physical and design value as a representative example of a mid-nineteenth century Gothic Revival church. Constructed originally as a simple frame church in 1840, sympathetic alterations to clad the structure in brick in the early 20th century retained its original rectangular form and contributed to its Gothic Revival aesthetic, including its gable roof, single-step raised chancel, lancet, or Gothic-arched, windows and decorative buttresses, all elements characteristic of Ontario Gothic Revival churches.

The Glen Methodist Church at 533 Main Street has historical and associative value as it is directly associated with the establishment and evolution of the Episcopal Methodist Church, and later United Church, within the Province, as well as the associative value with the religious community within Glen Williams for over 80 years. The property, and in particular the church building, demonstrate the historical significance of religious institutions as community hubs within hamlets like Glen Williams, while also reflecting the investments, alterations and improvements that are typically made in such institutions by their congregations over the lifetime of the church.

The Glen Methodist Church at 533 Main Street has contextual value as a landmark along Main Street in Glen Williams since its construction almost two hundred years ago. Located along a largely unaltered streetscape of nineteenth-century buildings, the former church building helps to define, maintain, and support the historic character of Glen Williams and is, in its original location, physically, visually, and historically linked to its surroundings.

Heritage Attributes

The identified heritage attributes of the property at 533 Main Street that contribute to its physical and design value include:

- The setback, placement, and orientation of the mid-nineteenth century Gothic Revival Glen Methodist Church along Main Street in Glen Williams;
- The scale, form, and massing of the one-storey brick-clad frame structure with gable roof;
- Materials throughout, including red brick cladding and detailing, stone foundations, stone sills, and lintels;
- On the front (west) elevation,
 - o The one-storey brick-clad vestibule with gable roof, raised central Gothic-arched entrance with stained glass transom, and brick hood mould;
 - o Symmetrically-placed lancet window openings on either side of the main entrance with brick hood moulds;
 - o Brick buttresses at the corner of the front and side elevations; and
 - o Centered above the front elevation, the commemorative stone reading “Glen Methodist Church A.D. 1837 & 1902”; and,
- On the side (north and south) elevations:

- Four symmetrically placed lancet window openings with brick buttresses between, above flat-headed window openings at the basement level with stone lintels within the stone foundation.

The identified heritage attributes of the property at 533 Main Street that contribute to its historical and associative value include:

- The property's legibility as a mid-nineteenth century church along Main Street in Glen Williams.

The identified heritage attributes of the property at 533 Main Street that contribute to its contextual value include:
