THE CORPORATION OF THE TOWNSHIP OF CHARLOTTENBURGH

IN THE MATTER OF THE ONTARIO HERITAGE ACT, R.S.O. 1980 Chapter 337, as amended, and in the matter of the premises (house - Avondbloem) on part of the West ½ lot 13, Concession 1 SSRR in the Township of Charlottenburgh, in the County of Glengarry, in the Province of Ontario.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO DESIGNATE

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of the Township of Charlottenburgh intends to designate the house known as Avondbloem on the above noted property as a property of historical value and interest under Part IV of the Ontario Heritage Act, R.S.O. 1980, Chapter 337, as amended.

REASONS FOR PROPOSED DESIGNATION

The McGillivray house, a frame house, with clapboard finish, was constructed in the early 1820's. It is a focal point for the appreciation of life and social change in Charlottenburgh during the past 200 years, while announcing the architectural concerns of a prominent local family. At first the home of the Nor'wester and public servant, the Honourable John McGillivray (1777-1856) and his direct descendants, the architectural style reflects not only the vernacular domestic architecture of the early 1800's, but also traces the technological and sociological changes in the region through modifications made to the fabric and structure of the building, notably in 1905 by Carrie Holmes McGillivray, granddaughter of the first owner and noted local author, as well as those made by subsequent owners.

Any person may, before Monday, August 15, 1994 send, by registered mail or deliver to the Clerk of the Township of Charlottenburgh, Notice of Objection to the proposed designation together with a statement of the reasons for the objection, and all relevant facts. When a Notice of Objection has been received, the Council of the Township of Charlottenburgh will refer the matter to the Conservation Review Board for a hearing and report.

Dated at the Township of Charlottenburgh this July 27, 1994.
